It was not possible to determine the nature or origin of this object. However, appears to be a fragment of a larger device. The item has no visible method of actuation or detonation chain. Although, there is a small amount of substance still filling a void within this cone-shaped vessel. It is not possible to determine the chemical composition of the remaining substance. It was, therefore, decided by the EOD contractor and Party Chief to leave the item in its original location, which will require further investigation and remedial action at some point in the future before intrusive operations can take place in this location.

A 50mtr exclusion zone is requested
